THE SENATE SUBSTITUTE.

THE TARIFF MEASURE REPORTED TO THE FULL COMMITTEE.

PUBLIC-SENATOR BECK TO FRAME THE MINORITY REPORT - PROBABLE REDUCTION OF REVENUES.

Washington, Sept. 25.—The sub-committee to-day submitted to the Finance Committee of the Senate its substitute for the "Dark Lantern" bill. After consideration it was unanimously agreed that the details of the measure should not made public until the minority should have an opportunity to study its provisions and form-ulate its views in opposition thereto. The duty of formulating those views has been committed by is Democratic colleagues to Senator Beck, and printed copy of the substitute was sent to him day. He is at Fortress Monroe and is reported to be ill. It is said, however, that his illness has not been so serious that he has not been able to study the printed reports of hearings granted by the sub-committee, or to hold frequent consultations with "Parsec" Moore and other ninent Free Traders who are equally distinguished for their unselfishness and candor. It is hoped, therefore, that the document which he is to prepare, and support with that "great speech," will have received the ornamental touches which Senator Harris is expected to give it, and be ready as early as Monday, so that the "Dark Lantern" bill and the substitute may be brought before It appears that in the meeting of the committee to-It appears that in the meeting of the committee the day the Democratic members expressed considerable that the Democratic members expressed considerable that before and after the Chamberlain-Bayard treaty that before and after the Chamberlain-Bayard treaty that before and after the Chamberlain-Bayard treaty that the results of the minority substitutes to have the views of the minority substitute before and after the Chamberlain-Bayard treaty that the results of the minority substitute before and after the Chamberlain-Bayard treaty that mitted to the Senate simultaneously with the report of the committee. To that, of course, when it came in the form of an earnest request, the majority could offer no reasonable objection, and none was offered. The granting of the request at once settled upon the minority the responsibility of any unreasonable delay in reporting to the Senate, should such delay occur. From the fact that the committee has decided to continue its hearings, it is apparent that the substitute is not majority could offer no reasonable objection, and hearings, it is apparent that the substitute is not regarded by its framers as the "Dark Lantern" conspirators regarded their creation-perfect in ire that it shall be so adjusted as to prevent the destruction of the American refining industry. In this case it is not a question of rates.

It is still an open question, too, as to whether all the tobacco taxes shall be swept away, or the taxes on cigars, cigarettes and cheroots reatmed, of it as may be necessary to protect their respective interests, may be preserved. The eigarmakers fear "tenement-house" and Chinese competition if Government supervision be removed; the manufacturers who own brands which have become popular and valuabic contend that the repeal of the taxes would amount virtually to a confiscation of their property in those brands.

The combined influence of the workers and man-

The combined influence of the workers and manfacturers was sufficiently powerful in the House to prevent the repeal and no effort was made to reduce the tax.

Before leaving the subject of tobacco it is well to state, for the satisfaction of the growers of leaf for cigar wrappers, in New-England, New-York, Pennsylvania, Wisconsin and other Northern States, that the Senate substitute contains provisions to protect them against fraudulent importation of Sumatra leaf and enable them again to enter the field of fair competition on equal terms. They will remember with what arrogance their appeals for justice were denied by the free-trade Democratic majority in the House.

Another matter which is still left open is the rate of duty on tin-plate. While there is no doubt as to the opinion of the majority of the committee, which is in favor of the restoration of the duty which existed prior to the act of 1883, or to within a fraction of that rate, it has been thought wise to leave the present rate to be dealt with by the Senate, unhampered by any formal recommendation of the committee. It is believed that this course is not unsatisfactory to the representatives of that industry. Some other matters of less general importance have been left open.

It can also be stated that there is no dispo-

Committee to close their eyes and ears and force the substitute through regardless of any new facts which may be presented respecting any detail of the measure. On the contrary, hearings will be granted, from time to time, as may seem necessary, until the subject has reached the final legislative stage, and these will be hearings in a legitimate sense, and not such "hearings" as were given by the majority of Ways and Means, to a few favored individuals and interests.

THE REDUCTION NOT YET KNOWN.

It is not practicable to give, as yet, a satisfactory estimate of the probable reduction of revenue under the proposed substitute, as the computations are not yet completed. They will be carefully made on a basis designed to show, as nearly as practicable, probable actual results, and not to fit a "theory." For example, it will not be assumed that a reduction of duty always or ordinarily results in a corresponding diminution of revenue. Other elements of the problem will be kept in view.

It is unortain how much the repeal of the tax on alcohol used in manufactures and the mechanic arts will take from the revenue.

on alcohol used in manufactures and the mechanic arts will take from the revenue. The estimates 'vary from $6,000,000 to $10,000,000. and a few rise to $12,000,000. Mr. Randall, who has devoted much attention to the subject, estimates the amount at $7,500,000. The provisions which accompany the repeal and are designed to afford necessary safeguards against frauds on the revenue are based on those drawn by Senator Hiscock, when, as a member of the House, he tried to have the matter considered by that body. They provide for methylation, special bonded warehouses, etc.

The reduction of revenue on account of tobacco, of course, will depend upon the repeal or retention of the tax on cigars etc. The reduction on account of sugar will exceed $30,000,000, allowing for the increase in consumption. The proposed additions to the free list will cut off $6,500,000 or $7,000,000 on the basis of last year's importations. It is difficult to estimate what will be the effect upon the revenue of the proposed change in the wool schedule which is understood to unite clothing wools, which now pay twelve cents per pound, with combing wools, which pay ten cents and impose a uniform rate of eleven cents per pound. Taken in connection with the sections to prevent undervaluations, which are identical with the provisions of the bill which passed the Senate several months ago, the effect may be to increase the revenue somewhat.

may be to increase the revenue somewhat.

Senator Aldrich whose opinion is entitled to great weight, estimates the probable reduction by the substitute as it stands at about $65,000,000, but that, of course, is subject to modification.

ENDED.

Washington, Sept. 25.—The conferces on the Sundry Washington, Sept. 25.—The conferces on the Sundry Civil Appropriation bill have agreed on the only point of difference—that in relation to the new library building—and have adopted substantially the Senate plan. They have fixed a limit at four millions for the cost of the entire building and appropriate $500,000 for this year. The work is to be conducted under the supervision of Colonel Thomas L. Casey, of the Engineer Corps, who is to perfect the plans for the entire structure.

A HOUSE DOCUMENT COMPLETELY LOST. THE DINGLEY PISHERY RESOLUTION MYSTERI-

OUSLY DISAPPEARS.

Washington, Sept. 25 (Special).—On September 17 Representative Dingley, of Maine, offered a set of resolutions in the House, which were referred to the Foreign Affairs Committee, and which, among other things, inquired of the President:

1.—Whether he has information that American fishing vessels are now denied, or have been denied, in Canadian ports within the last year, either of such rights and privileges named in the treaty negotiated with Great Britain in February last as the sole rights of such vessels in such parts, and, if so, when and to what vessels these rights were denied.

2.—Whether the Executive now holds that American fishing vessels authorized by our laws to touch and trade at foreign ports are also entitled to the rights or privileges of entering Canadian ports for the purpose of purchasing bait, provisions or supplies for a deep-sea fishing voyage, or for the purpose of landing fish to be sold in Canadian territory on payment of duty or for shipment in bond to the United States without the payn out of a li-cine fee to the Canadian authorities for the exercise of either or all of such privileges.

3.—Whether any American fishing vessels authorized by our laws to touch and trade have been denied the exercise of either of said rights in Canadian ports, or have been required to pay a special license fee not exacted of other vessels for the exercise of such privileges, and, if so,

4.—What steps have been taken by the President, pursuant to the act of March 3, 1887, to withdraw from Canadian fishing vessels in ports of the United States the privileges of purchasing bait, provisions and supplies for a fishing voyage, denied to American fishing vessels in Canadian ports, or to withdraw from Canadian fishermen the privilege of bringing their fish into the territory of the United States for sale in our markets on payment of duty or for shipment in bond in Canada, which privileges have been denied in Canada to fishermen of the United States for sale in our markets on payment of duty

This illustrates both the reform and the economical predilections of the present Administration. The circular served an excellent purpose before the campaign began, but has been found an obstacle in these stirring times.

"THE PHYSICAL WRECK" AT IT AGAIN. Washington, Sept. 25 (Special).—Six clerks in the Third Auditor's Office have been engaged about two months in drawing off complete lists of the names of male invalid pensioners in certain States, giving the date of the allowance of pension, the rate per month and the residence of the pensioner. Duplicate lists are made, and it is understood that one is for the use of the State Central (Democratic) Committee and the other for the chairmen of County Committees. The increase of invalid pensions is largely within the control of the Commissioner of Pensions, who has an army of pension examiners in the field, and it is supposed that these lists are to furnish information to the examiners in their political quest for votes. The prospect of converting Republican pensioners into Democratic voters by the promise of an increase of pension doubtless seems promising enough to warrant this diversion of labor paid for out • the Treasury from its legitimate channels.

A RECEIVER FOR C. M. WARD'S EFFECTS.

Thomas Maitland advanced $6,000 to Charles Monta-gue Ward, the broker, on March 25, 1887, and took his note for the amount, which has never been paid. Mattland took judgment by default in a suit to recover the money in the Superior Court for $6,074 91, including interest and costs. Execution was returned un-satisfied, and Ward was examined in supplemenary proceedings. He testified that he owned no property except his seat in the Stock Exchange, and that he had a axcept his seat in the Stock Factange, and that he had re-reversionary one-fifth interest in the estate worth $200,-000, of his cousin Henry Hall Ward. He has no bus-liness at present and lives with his mother at Seabright. Justice Truax yesterday appointed Palmer Coolidge receiver of his effects.

____ A DECISION IN THE NEWARK BANK CASE. Trenton, N. J., Sept. 25 (Special).-Justice Bradley, of the United States Supreme Court, handed down a decision here to-day in the case of Frelinghuysen, receiver of the defunct Mechanics' National Bank, of Newark, against Christopher Nugent & Co. Justice Bradley recalled the failure of the bank, the sensation oceated by the discovery that of its millions not a penny was left, and the remarkable tale related by Oscar L. Baldwin, the cashier, who served a term in the State Prison. Baldwin insisted that Nugent & Co. got the bank's money, and that he never profited a cent by his crookedness. Justice Bradley to-day discredited the cashier's story. The decision concludes as follows: "There must be a decree to dis-miss the bill of complaint so far as it prays for the establishment of a trust ex maleficio against the property of the firm of C. Nugent & Co., or of the individual partners of the firm, and also to dismiss the cross bill so far as it seeks to have the respective deeds of assignment executed by Christopher and James Nugent as partners and as individuals declared fraudulent and void, and to have the claim of the complainant entirely disallowed; also, to declare the deeds to the valid and operative, and to establish and allow under the assignments the claim of the com-plainant as a creditor of the Nugents to the amoun of $1.074,750 17, and the claims of the other creditor to the several amounts set up by them respectively.

IN FAVOR OF THE STOCK EXCHANGE.

JUDGE BROWN'S DECISION IN THE CONTEST OVER THE COMMERCIAL TICKERS. Newburg, N. Y., Sept. 25,-Judge Charles F. Brown,

Newburg, N. Y., Sept. 25.—Judge Charles F. Brown, of the Supreme Court, has rendered his decision in the long-standing case of the Consolidated Stock and Petroleum Exchange against the New-York Stock Exchange. The action was brought by the Consolidated Exchange to restrain the Commercial Telegram Company from removing its tickers from the floor of the New-York Stock Exchange. The couri decides that there was no ground for action on the part of the plaintiff against the Stock Exchange and the complaint is dismissed, but the injunction asked for by the plaintiff is granted.

In his decision Judge Brown says that, although the complainant alleges that a contract had been made under which the Telegram Company engaged in business upon the floor of the Stock Exchange in furnishing ness upon the floor of the Stock Exchange in furnishing ness upon the floor of the Stock Exchange in furnishing the quotations of transactions in said Exchange, nevertheless the evidence shows that all reports of such quotations were received by the company for transmission to such persons only as should be approved of by such Exchange, and that it is indisputable that such approval never was directly given, while any such as might be inferred from acquiescence was withdrawn when the company was directed to remove its instruments. If these quotations are to be given to the public it must be under such reasonable regulations as the Exchange should impose.

"I think it will not be disputed," he says, "that if any duty rests upon the Stock Exchange to make public the ruling price of transactions on its floor, such duty must be found either in the character of the or-ganization or in the nature of the business there transected. First, as to the character of the organization, the New-York Stock Exchange is not a corporation. It is a voluntary association of individuals. It is not the outgrowth of any public demand, serves no public interest, has no special privileges, or powers, and has asked and obtained nothing from the State except asked and doubted which the law affords every citizen. Second, as to the business transacted upon the Exchange, it is exclusively that of the individual memchange, it is exclusively that of the individual members, and no public duty, and no obligation rests upon any of the members of the Exchange to make known any of the details of their transactions with other members. The Exchange is but the agent of its members. Whatever information it possesses it holds in trust for its members. So long as he violates no law and does not interfere with the reciprocal rights of others, every man may do what he will with his own. Applying this conclusion to the parties to this case, the plaintiff has shown no cause of action against the Stock Exchange and, as to it, the complaint must be dismissed. But no issue is made by the answer of the Telegram Company and, as to it, an injunction must be granted in accordance with the prayer of the complaint.

NEWS FROM THE FIELD AND RANGE OF PRICES.

Only a small volume of trading in oil was recorded at the Consolidated Exchange and in the unlisted department of the Stock Exchange yesterday. The buy-ing impulse of Monday was not carried much further, prices failing to get more than a fraction above 94 cents, Monday's closing figure. The opening was 3-8 cent lower on news of the opening of a new well at Reiboid with a yield of fifty barrels an hour, and there were some unsettled fluctuations preceding a rise to 94 3-8 cents. Up to within a short time of the admission of a cadet to the academy shall be sixten to provide the end, the market held steady around 93 3-4294 cents. The break below 93 cents, which then occurred, was something of a general surprise, but the cent lower on news of the opening of a new work at Reiboid with a yield of fifty barrels an hour, and there were some unsettled fluctuations preceding a rise to 94 3-8 cents. Up to within a short time of the end, the market held steady around 93 3-4x94 cents. The break below 93 cents, which then occurred, was something of a general surprise, but the precession in values was made under no heavy pressure visions to protect them against fraudulent importation of Sumatra leaf and enable them again to enter the field of fair competition on equal terms. They will remember with what arrogance their appeals for justice were denied by the freetheir and particle circular of "July 14." better known as the "Obtrusive Partisan" circular, addressed to the heads of Departments, and warning office holders "against the use of their official positions in at the control political movements in their locative," has been called in, and it is presumed from this fact, as well as from the obtrusive activity of office holders in political matters everywhere, that they have wise to leave the present rate to be dealt with by the Senate, unhampered by any formal recommendation of the committee. The larger number, however, were forced conversions and resulted in the liquidation of short contracts at a loss. The Western markets lead in conversions and resulted in the liquidation of short contracts at a loss. The Western markets lead in bullish spirit, although foreign houses were among the free buyers here yesterday. Stronger cable advices helped the home crop reports and the speculation closed active and buoyant at top prices, with gains of 21-82 points as follows: September, $102.00 ctober, $102.1-8; November, $103.5-8; December, $104.7-8; January, $105.7-8. Cash wheat was marked up 1.3-4-2.1-4 cents but the high prices stifled the export demand. Corn on the spot was 1.2-1.2 cents better but the market was dull and shippers took only 40,000 bushels. The options caught the bull infection from the leading cereal and there was a good volume of trading done. The market closed firm at top notches, with gains of 17-8 for Jordober at 52.3-8, 2.1-8 for November, at the same price; 2.3-8 for December, at 51.7-8; 7-8 for January at 48.7-8 and 3-5 cent for May at 48.3-8 cents. Outs were more or less neglected, but the market was easier and the options closed of 1.8 for September at 29.3-8, and December at 31.1-4 and unchanged for October at 29.5-8 and November at 30.1-2 cents. Land options were dull and weak for the near-by months but higher for the distant deliveries. October was down 9 and November 4 points at $10.91 and $0.04 respectively, while gains of 20.5 points were secred for December at $6.4, January at $3.46 and March at $8.64.

The receipts of flour and grain reported yesterday at New-York, Baltimore, Philadelphia and Boston were as follows: Wheat, 118.250 bushels; corn, 173.740 bushels; out, 55.553 packages. Chicago, Sept. 25 (Special).—The bulls were out on the curb pretty late last night establishing a foundation for to-day's bulge. The stronger cables this morning added curb pretty late last night establishing a foundation for to-day's buige. The stronger cables this morning added the finishing touches, and when the bell tapped there was a wild, surging mass of eager bidders at 1 cent above yesterday's close. For a half-hour or so the market was rather duil around 97 cents for December. The dulness gave way to activity and strength. Prices soured until 98 1-4 cents for December was reached. Fitces went of nearly a cent on realizations, but fresh buying came in and sent December above 98 cents again. The buils were confident that December was no its way to a dollar. It camed be said that our market advanced on buil news. It was rather on a reflection of buillish sentiment from the various markets. We advanced because prices were higher in the Northwest, and those markets advanced still further when our prices went up. About 1 o'clock the market was quite heavy at 97 3-8 cents for December, but the buils took it in hand and sent it up a cent in the last fifteen minutes, closing it at about the top. It had a whooped-up look, but it may so higher on Wednesday. Those traders who confine their attention to corn were unanimously of the opinion this morning that the decline had gone far enough. There was good buying all day long, resulting in a 1-4 cent builge in October before noon. Oats made a feeble effort to tail on, but 1-4 cent advance was about all that could be effected. There were received 795 cars of corn and 290 cars of oats. Provisions were slightly caster to start with on account of the large number of hogs on sale at the yards. The receipts were 14,000, and 7,000 were left over from Monday. But the strength of other markets seemed to infuse life, resulting in quite an active trade at better prices. Wednesday's estimates are for 13,000 hogs.

On the early curb wheat sold down to 97 5-8 cents for December, but railled to 98 1-4 and closed about 98 bid.

NO NEW FEATURES DEVELOPED. Tuesday, Sept. 25-p. m.

To-day's stock speculation failed to develop any new features. The "bull" manipulation continues to be of a character which reflects great confidence in the position. The stock loan mar-ket was freely supplied by holders of contracts, ket was freely supplied by holders of contracts, so that while the berrowing demand was unusually large, the rates were made easy and pleasing. The market opened quiet and in prices rather heavy. But a sharp rally succeeded, and for a little time yesterday's:" short' sellers went thimbing for a liquidation of their contracts. At advances of about 1 per cent they met a generous fee who said help yourselves to the extent of your sales yesterday. Morning sellers of St. Paul at 65 to 64 1-2 were enger buyers at 65 1-2a66. The foreign exchanges were dull and weak for to-morrow's steamers. Sterling was heavy and continentals were nominal. Annexed are the closing quotations for business. Bankers' bills, $4 84 1-4 and $4 87 1-2 for fong and short sterling respectively; 5.22 1-2 and 5.20 for francs; 94 15-16 and 95 8-8 for reichmarks; 40 1-4 and 40 for guilders.

In London, British consols were easy at 97 9-16 and 99 5-8 respectively; for money and account. In the open market, money between bankers ruled at 2.3-4a3 per cent, and for discount of bankers' bills at 3.5-8 per cent. The Bank of England lost on balance £8,000 bullion. American railways opened lower in response to the fatest Saturday's home price, but as compared with the New-York concurrent quotations the market ruled firm. To-morrow's market probably will open higher notwithstanding the "bear" cables to be sent this evening to make prices look comfortable to the home "short" interest. At Paris French 3 per cents were steady and sight exchange on London ruled at 25.41 1-2 francs to the £. The weekly statement of the Imperial Bank of Germany shows a specie loss of 5,420,000 marks.
